Hi [Name],

A strong cybersecurity policy is only effective if your team knows how to implement it. That's why ongoing Security Awareness Training is essential. Cybersecurity Awareness Month is a great time to focus on training, but security awareness should be an ongoing effort.

A well-trained team is your best defense against cyber threats. Security Awareness Training can help employees:

- Identify protected information
- Avoid data breaches
- Report suspicious activity
- Follow the best security practices

Consider these training topics:

- Identifying Protected Information: Help employees recognize what needs to be safeguarded.
- Understanding Data Exposure Scenarios: Discuss common situations where data might be at risk.
- Reporting Incidents: Ensure your team knows how to handle and report potential breaches.

With Ostra Encompass, you get access to ongoing training, phishing tests and more (included at no extra cost). Not sure if you're utilizing this valuable resource? Reach out to schedule a review call.
